REPORTS OF FREEHOLDERS

Freeholder Kenneth Armwood

Freeholder Deputy Director Carol Bellante

As Freeholder liaison to the Middlesex County Open Space and Recreation Public Advisory Committee, I am happy to bring you up to date on the County's continuing efforts to supplement our acquisition of parkland and open space with Green Acres funding.

We recently submitted a payment voucher to the Green Acres Program for our acquisition of parkland and open space properties in Middlesex County. We expect reimbursement before the end of the year for our purchase of the Whitney Estates Property in Old Bridge Township in the amount of $325,000. We also submitted a payment request for $158,000 for the purchase of the Ireland Brook Extension in South Brunswick. There are four (4) additional properties in various stages of due diligence, that have already received preliminary approval for funding through the Green Acres program.

Additionally, we received great news last week, when we were notified by the Green Acres program that our application for park development funds was approved for $1.3 million dollars. The award is for continuing improvements to the 84-acre Joseph Medwick Park in Carteret, including observation decks overlooking the Rahway River, resurfaced tennis courts, a playground area and extended paved walking/biking paths.

We will continue to pursue additional funding opportunities through the Green Acres program and other partners in support of our commitment to leverage county tax dollars with state funding for open space preservation and parkland development.

I have several items to share from our Office of Human Services:

Last night the Human Services Advisory Council co-sponsored a screening of the documentary, "The Raising of America" at the Middlesex County Vo-Tech, East Brunswick Campus. The documentary explored the history of legislation, economic impact and the developmental research of early childhood education. It was followed by a panel of experts that shared their views and experiences in the field, answered questions and helped to set the stage for local action and advocacy around this issue.

On July 30th and 31st the Middlesex County Veterans Advisory Council will hold a book sale at the Milltown American Legion, 4 JFK Drive in Milltown. The sale will be open from 10am - 3pm. Proceeds from the sale will be used to assist Veterans and their families with emergency housing needs.

And, this week the Board of Chosen Freeholders announced the availability of grants to support non-profit service agencies in calendar year 2016. The Freeholder Support grants, which have been awarded for more than 25 years, provide funding to agencies that serve the county's most vulnerable residents and whose services fall within five identified priority areas: promoting economic well-being and self-sufficiency, meeting basic needs and housing, coordinating educational opportunities, improving access to health care and community safety. For the past six years, more than $900,000 has been awarded annually through the County Freeholder Support Grants.

The Support Grant process is led by the Middlesex County Office of Human Services with recommendations from the Middlesex County Human Services Advisory Council. A grant application overview and technical assistance session will be held at the Middlesex County Fire Academy in Sayreville at 10am on June 29th. I strongly recommend that agencies that intend to submit a grant application attend this session. Electronic copies of the application are available on the county's website on the Human Services Page under "Announcements and Events". Hard copies of the application will be available at the technical assistance session on June 29th.

Completed support grant applications are due at the Middlesex County Office of Human Services in the County Administration Building no later than 1pm on Friday, August 14, 2015. Applications will not be accepted after the submission deadline. Additional information on the Support Grants is available by calling Melyssa Lewis, Human Services Director, at 732-745-4186.
